The Mauritius Prison Service (MPS) in collaboration with other law enforcement agencies strive to make Mauritius a safer place for all. Our main objective is to keep detainees in safe, humane custody and help prepare them for a useful life. The involvement of the civil society is very crucial towards this mission. During the year under review (2019), the Mauritius Prison Service continued to meet the challenge of caring for persons who were committed from the courts. This care related not only to their secure imprisonment, but equally important, the need to influence offenders to lead law abiding and useful lives upon release as clearly stated by our “Mission Statement”.

Unquestionably, the task of rehabilitating offenders contributed in no small way to the development of the country as it seeks to create a better; more equitable society. Working as an integral part of the Criminal Justice System, the Service has continued to be a leading correctional facility within the region. The major challenge that confronted the Service was the international economic crisis which continued to have implications for the amount of resources being made available. Nevertheless, the prison continues to perform efficiently and effectively despite these universal challenges.

Our aim is to provide the degree of custody necessary in each case to ensure that the sentence of the court is carried out, and, to attempt to modify the behaviour of the offenders so that their activities on release will be law-abiding rather than law breaking. This will be achieved by the provision of treatment and the setting up of conditions which will afford them opportunity for more successful personal and social adjustment.

Prison work can be difficult and demanding. It is a challenge for the prison to meet the needs of all detainees, which are often complex and at times not merely criminal but incorporating mental health issues, substance abuse, homelessness, family breakdown and other social issues. It can be a demanding and difficult job, requiring the constant assessment of risk, a need to be alert, knowledgeable, firm and flexible. The best combines these qualities with care and compassion. Prison staff often works without recognition and sometimes under threat, to help those people in custody to change, to become better citizens and to make a positive contribution to their community when they are released. When this is achieved, prisons make a significant contribution to the safety and security of Mauritius.

Fifteen institutions including Pointe La Geule Prison in Rodrigues are directly administered by the Commissioner of Prisons under the aegis of the Ministry of Defence and Rodrigues.

The overall performance of the Mauritius Prison Service (MPS) for the year 2020 can be deemed as a vast improvement over that of 2018. In 2019, the Mauritius Prison Service repositioned itself towards a new and more dynamic rehabilitative track. Consequently, the department is now well poised to achieve its ultimate goal of purposeful rehabilitation, operational efficiency and self-sufficiency. With a renewed emphasis in counseling offenders effectively, the conduct of needs analysis, and the identification of deficit behavior, significant progress is also being made towards engaging each offender in purposeful rehabilitation.
Mauritius has been colonised several times.
It has no aboriginal inhabitants. The population is of European, Chinese, Indian and African descent. Thus, it is multi-racial, multi-cultural and multi-lingual.

The Dutch made this country an agricultural colony and introduced sugarcane, tobacco and indigo. They brought convicts to assist them as labourers. It is inferred, therefore, that the origin of prison can be traced back to the Dutch settlement.

The French, too made use extensively of miscreants from European Prisons to improve the agricultural industry. In 1737, under the governorship of Mahé de Labourdonnaïs, law was regimented. Ever since, construction of prisons for the maintenance of law and order had gained resonance. In all the districts of Mauritius, a regional prison known as 'Le Bargne' was established.

On 3 December 1810 the English conquered the country from the French and further developed the Prisons Service. The introduction of Industrial School, Borstal Institution and Open prison are attributed to them. It can be safely placed on record that the present Prison system is an evolution of the English Penal System.

With independence, the Republic of Mauritius has developed its own identity and culture. This is also true for the Mauritius Prison Service.
Mission

We serve society by keeping detainees in a safe, humane custody and help prepare them for a useful life in society.

Vision

A Safer Mauritius through best correctional practice.

Our Goals

Keep detainees in a safe custody.

Maintain order, control, discipline and safe environment.

Provide decent conditions for detainees and meet their needs, including medical care, advice on and help with personal problems.

Provide positive regimes which help detainees to address their offending behavior and prepare them to live a full and responsible life.

Help towards rehabilitation of detainees. Provide a delivery of prison services using resources provided by Parliament with maximum efficiency.

In meeting these goals, we co-operate closely with other criminal justice agencies and contribute to the effectiveness and development of the criminal justice system as a whole.

To monitor all statutory to intramural sentences.

Our Objectives

To provide a safe and healthy environment, that is conducive to the rehabilitation and spiritual enhancement as well as vocational training of the detainees.

To facilitate and safeguard ways and means for the detainees’ contact with outside world, i.e. spouse, children, parents and next of kin.

To provide the necessary structures that will be beneficial for all detainees in terms of education and vocational training.

To apprise and sensitize the detainees on the ill effects of substances abuse and to empower them so that they may lead a drug-free life.

To provide the detainees with all the required structures for their mental and physical development through sports and games and to continuously upgrade and rethink the existing physical structures of the prison so that they may be congruent with a healthy and peaceful environment.
The Strategic Plan 2013-2023 was worked out with the collaboration of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC). It was developed as it provided an insight for prisons to introduce better and more modern practices. Taking into consideration the different constraints and challenges facing the MPS, the aim of this Strategic Plan has been to devise ways and means to improve prison performances over time. Its purpose is to introduce best correctional practice that fit the Mauritian context. The plan is a road map that points the direction and sets target to reduce recidivism. Six main areas of reform were identified and were categorized as here-under:

As at now, for the successful implementation of the plan, it is imperative to have effective teamwork as well as internal and external partnerships. To this end, two goals of the six main pillars have already been completed namely the Strategic Planning & Research Unit and the Operationalising of the Eastern High Security Prison. Each pillar is being monitored by a team of prison staff under the direct responsibility of a Deputy Commissioner of Prisons.
Strategic Planning and Research Unit

The Strategic Planning and Research Unit which was established in 2013 as one of the pillars of the Strategic Plan 2013-2023 and which is headed by an Assistant Commissioner of Prisons, is responsible to conduct research and analyze data for emerging trends in prisons across the world. It also provides accurate advice to senior management team to better support decision making for the planning of infrastructure, services and the formulation of policy proposals. It also organizes meetings with internal and external stakeholders and technical people to assist in the implementation of projects in the different units. In order to be proactive in the execution of its challenging duties, the MPS is bound to develop mechanisms to ensure that resources are developed optimally. The Planning Unit has the responsibility to constantly monitor, supervise and report to Senior Management matters pertaining to the effective and efficient use of resources at the MPS. It has a good documentation system to record all progress of work pertaining to different institutions.

Integrated Detainee Management

On the 31st of December 2019, the Mauritius Prisons Service accommodated 2483 adult detainees (Males and Females including Foreigners) in Mauritius and 37 detainees (Males and Females) in Rodrigues. The coming into operation of Eastern High Security Prison in 2014 has provided modern prison accommodation and an opportunity to introduce improved detainee management systems as well as review and rationalize the utilization of the prisons facilities. The management of detainees has remained basically unchanged with prison officers largely performing a traditional “turnkey” role. This is not to underestimate some important rehabilitative services and recent innovations particularly the development of a new induction system and the Enhanced Earning Scheme. The Mauritius Prisons Service has long had the aim of rehabilitating detainees and has a number of specialist staff to provide a range of education, training skills, welfare services, along with non-government organizations that provide rehabilitative programmes and service. However, the great majority of prison officers’ roles is focused on security and supervision and is not engaged in the rehabilitative aims of imprisonment. The aim is to instil a positive respectful relationship between staff and detainees using an integrated system of managing detainees that focuses upon protecting the community by reducing re-offending. This has been achieved by developing a training curriculum for prison officers to support the implementation of an Integrated Detainee Management System that addresses all the identified challenges by incorporating the following key components: (1) First night strategy (2) Reception and induction (3) Risk Assessment Tool (4) Programmes (5) Case Management (6) Unit Management (7) Sentence and Release Planning.
Rehabilitation and Resettlement

Cognitive Behavioural Programmes should become the key focus for reducing the rate of re-offending. Most detainees have a low educational and employment background and many have poor physical and mental health. There is a high incidence of drug abuse and HIV and other infections. It is obvious that many of these detainees come from the most vulnerable group in society. There are many challenges being faced to reduce re-offending but in the long run, the following measures are being taken into consideration:

- To create more space for activities and workshops with expanded vocational opportunities in tune with demand on the contemporary work market thereby enhancing detainee’s employability upon release;
- To establish a pre-release plan for each detainee; and
- To establish a comprehensive and coordinated resettlement support services through a coordinating body involving Government and Non-Government Organizations (NGOs).

Looking to the future, and the implementation of the Mauritius Prisons Service Ten-year Strategic Plan 2013-2023, especially the Rehabilitation and Resettlement Pillar, partners will have to ensure that all opportunities are seized to deliver positive results for detainees. Practical, intelligent and innovative approaches to managing the complex needs of detainees will help ensure that the community is protected, crime is reduced and vulnerable people, especially women, are not victimized in society.

Improved Security

Security and safety are the primary concerns of prison systems. Thus, prison staff must constantly be on alert to calculate and minimize a multitude of potential risks to security. These include but are not limited to the risks of: escape; detainee violence and bullying; self-harm and suicide; illicit drug use, infection, and many more. In broad terms, security takes three forms:

- Physical security includes architecture of the prison buildings, the strength of the walls of those buildings, the bars on the windows, the door of the accommodation units, the specifications of the perimeter walls and fences, watchtowers and so on.
- Procedural security relates to security processes and procedures which have to be followed such as searching, counting and supervision and control.
- Dynamic security is a concept and a working method by which staffs prioritise the creation and maintenance of everyday communication and interaction with detainees based on high professional ethics. It ensures that there is sufficient purposeful and meaningful activity to occupy detainees.
When physical and procedural security is at their highest level they are extremely costly to run and might be interpreted as being oppressive and inhumane for detainees. If security and safety are absent, detainees can quickly become violent and dangerous. Consequently, it is important to have a range of prisons that have been constructed and rated to varying levels of security. In Mauritius as in most countries, prisons are designed to satisfied four levels of physical security:

(i) High security
(ii) Maximum security
(iii) Medium security
(iv) Minimum security

Ideally, detainees should be individually assessed for the level of risk they pose and be matched and placed into prisons with an appropriate security rating.

To this end, the following have been taken into consideration to improve security:

(i) The construction of Melrose Prison has provided a respite to overcrowding.
(ii) Regular security audits (that build upon the security audits previously sponsored by UNODC) in all prisons will help to reduce the security risk arising from the deterioration of the prison conditions.
(iii) A search strategy to detect prohibited articles such as mobile telephones and drugs by making increased use of new technologies.
(iv) Trial of security classification tools for detainees by making use of modern techniques to ensure that detainees are classified to the lowest level of security appropriate to their circumstances.
(v) Prison security ratings – to ensure that each prison is appropriately rated in terms of its security as high, maximum, medium or minimum security.
(vi) Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) should be developed for the proper management of prisons.

Operationalising Eastern High Security Prison

The Eastern High Security Prison was inaugurated on 20th of March 2014 and became into operation on the 27th of March 2014 and it has reached its cruising speed as a fully functional high security prison. It consists of three cell blocks, five dormitory blocks, high security special units, a geriatric block, educational facilities, a segregation dormitory block, works complex, staff facilities, administrative block, religious facilities, and kitchen and service yards. It has the capacity to accommodate 750 to 1000 male detainees especially those undergoing long sentences.
Capacity Building

Capacity Building is an important feature in any organization. The quality of service delivered depends on how human resources are recruited, managed and trained. In order to achieve the mission of the Mauritius Prisons Service, human resources are being managed efficiently and responsibly and attention given to capacity building of staff. To address this problem, the following has been taken into consideration:

(i) Capacity building for Line managers has been put in place to ensure that leadership and competent management experience is available to provide future leadership to the organization.

(ii) Mauritius Prisons Service training curricula responds to adequate best correctional practices. The Prison Training School presently offers a range of training package for the benefit of all grades of officers. The existing curricula also include such modules as interpersonal skills, Unit Management, Case Management, Equal Opportunities and Non-Discrimination, Suicide Prevention, Fire Safety Awareness, Gender Awareness, Sensitization against Drug Abuse, and Sentence Planning amongst others. Besides the assistance of Mauritius Civil Service College is sought for the training of officers at all ranks. The Mauritius prison training school is ISO Certified.

Evaluation of Strategy

Periodic evaluations of strategies, tactics, and action programs are being carried out:

1) To assess success of the strategic planning process.
2) To evaluate the effect of specific actions on long-term results.
3) To consider any changes or events that may have impacted the desired course of actions.

Review of the Strategic Plan

The ten year strategic plan is expected to reach its target by 2023. Prison management will work on a new plan.
The Strategic Planning and Research Unit which is under the charge of an Assistant Commissioner of Prisons was operational in 2013 under the first pillar of the ten-year Strategic Plan 2013-2023. The Plan was developed by a dedicated team of officers under the close supervision of a UNODC Consultant and it focuses on the following areas of concern:

1. To assist management in policy decisions and project formulations
2. To assist management in decision-making by providing a good information system to support an effective prison management system which benchmarks on world best practices.
3. To address Issues related to legislation, human rights, modern risk management, modern actuarial risk and classification models, credible alternatives to imprisonment, modern concepts of rehabilitation, negative impact of short sentences on cost of imprisonment, effectiveness of the Parole System, long period of remand, high rate of re-offending.

The health care of prisoners is an integral and essential part of every prison’s work. Primary care is the foundation of prison health services. It is the most effective and efficient elements of health care in any public health system and, as such, should be available to every prisoner. Prisoners have the same right to health care as everyone else in society.

The purpose of health care in prison is the same as outside prison. The care of patients is its core function and its main activities are clinical. A full primary care service also includes elements of disease prevention and health promotion.

There are several health facilities that have been put in place in the Mauritius Prison Service to assess, diagnose and maintain detainees’ health. Medical examination carried out on the day of admission of the prisoner. Its main purpose is the early detection of critical health conditions which might require immediate measures to protect the health of the new inmate and in cases of transmissible diseases, to protect the health of the prison population.

As with primary care in the community, there are secondary duties. Prison health professionals may also occasionally carry out other duties and services. They may provide reports to the courts, reports for when the early release of a prisoner is being considered on general or specific health grounds and even carry out rehabilitations program for detainees.

Introduction of the Welfare Unit

The Prison Welfare Unit is an important component in the Prison Management System. The Unit operates in close collaboration with the Officer in Charge of the different institutions to ensure that the different activities, geared towards the rehabilitation and reinsertion of adult detainees and juveniles, are carried out in an effective way. Welfare officers cater for one specific institution at least and are therefore responsible for the welfare of detainees by attending to their requests and complaints.

The Welfare Officer assists the officer in charge by attending the Reception Board, the Discharged Person Aid Committee, in the implementation of constructive activities and the Adjudication Board for detainees. The Welfare Officer also attends the CYC Board of Visitors for Boys.

Taking care of at least one institution, the Prisons Welfare Officer looks after the welfare of detainees and generally deals with legal, social and family problems of detainees and liaises with detainees’ families. The Prisons Welfare Officer is as well the link between any penal institution and NGOs including moral instructors.

In his quest to deliver a quality service, clearances are sought from competent authorities prior to allowing non-state actors inside any prison. Furthermore, the collaboration of Governmental organizations and the private firms are being enlisted for the enhancement of skills and knowledge across all the penal institutions.

Dissemination of information to detainees admitted at the Induction Units forms part of the core duty of Welfare officers to enable particularly those coming to prison for the first time to cope with the new environment.

As a result, Welfare officers are bound to interview every detainee on admission and connect with their respective families with a view to facilitate communication through visits, telephones and if the need is felt through Skype as well. A family outreach centre has been put in place in several institutions to enable Welfare Officers help families overcome difficulties arising.
